Our Visions

Below: "It would have been nice to know about this assignment before yesterday".

isions. We create them. We have been creating our moments, hours and days. We have created our future. Firstwe created our vision. Our vision for the future. ArtsHigh School has played an integral part in that role. The teachers and administrators as well as support staff and friends have come together for this purpose. Now we, the Class of 1998, are taking the next step, a very major step in bringing our visions to life. Our experiences were unique, our visions, individual. Visions of success can only be fulfilled if we keep them in the forefront of our minds. We will not be deterred by the negatives around us. What is in store for us, depends upon what we have stored away. Arts High School has been a great store for us. It has supplied motivation, technique and a gateway toward success. Visions attained, are first created. As the saying goes, if you can believe it, you can achieve it. But that is not enough. We learned to make our visions real, not live someone else's. At Arts High, we have taken a giant step in the direction of our own, very personal, vision. Take a look, see, as we soar.

ajama Day was a day of slumber and sleep-wear. The underclass students at Arts High must have thought they were dreaming. Seniors in boxers and teddies were everywhere. There was no question about it. The class of '98 had it going on in their pajamas. They were so in to it. They even went through all the gym periods in their sleepwear gear and played volleyball with teddy bears. It was a crazy day. Some even wore teddies. You know who? The guys I believe enjoyed the day more than the ladies. They were just chillin. They found out alot about each other that day, like people really come to school in their sleeping clothes. (You got to wonder, do they wash first?!!!!!!!!)

Flashing Back To The Times

"And we still look good".

ow would you envision Flashback Day? The class of '98 portrayed it with many colors and costumes. From Anicent Greece to the 1980's these seniors showed how they can be fashionable no matter what the decade. There was a little bit of everything, such as afros and hippies. There were one of a kinds, like Dornell in his Greek attire, Moo Moo in a poodle skirt, and Jakyrra in a bee hive. Most of the senior young men did up in their pimp suits, walking canes and disco wear, so did some of the ladies. But the ladies topped it off with the bell bottoms, short skirts and ripped jeans. The class of '98 showed how they could get down and boogie on their soul train line. Chevonne was an 80's break dancer with all the moves. Malik showed how he could throw off his coat and really cook. There is no question about it, the class '98 enjoyed flashing back.

t started as a regular school day but soon, we knew something was amiss. Were we dreaming? It felt like we were Hypnotized, or was that just because Biggie Smalls was escorting Mary J. Blige and Kriss Kross across the front hallways? There, right in my line of vision was Aaliyah, singing Hot Like Fire, and there 702, that looks like Changing Faces!! And who is that with the multi-colored hair, Dennis Rodman? Please don't want to fight, not with Oscar DeLaHoya. Over there, Lauren Hill, no there! Rocky. Guess he is looking for Oscar. Where did he go? Didn't we just see Zhane? And what is his name again? Who? You know. The Artist Formally Known As? Did you say Moma Gonna Knock You Out? Hope it was from LL Cool J, not Oscar!! Look!! Erykah Badu, singing On and On, Hey, isn't that Michael and Janet?? Michael who you say?? Listen, sounds like Triumph. Wu-Tang must be here. We must be dreaming I see Momma Payne. I think we should start over again, this does not seem like our high school. I am going home, going to bed early. What is that you say, Not Tonight? Lil Kim must be in the house.

Dude Looks Like A Lady

ne of our favorite senior activities at Arts is "Switch Day". This is a day when the most feminine females change into rough, tough roughnecks and the most masculine guys change into "Sexy Fe'mme Fatales".

Switch Day has been a tradition at Arts High for many years. It is a chance to play "Dress Up" creatively, using the opposite sex switch as a theme. Students can use their "acting" talents as well. A deep-voiced guy just might be heard discussing his(her) lipstick in a high-pitched female voice, while a very lovely young lady may appear as a real strong, tough, "Street Fighter" type with a moustache, beard and a definite "attitude".

Switch Day is fun and fascinating for all who participate!

DEDICATION

Mrs. Judith Barrett

Director of Guidance

We, the senior class at Arts High School, would like to dedicate the 1998 yearbook, the Vignette, to Judith Barrett. Mrs. Barrett has been an employee of the Board of Education for more than thirty years. She has graced our halls and classrooms, facilitating each new phase or program as they were introduced into the school. She was a Senior Guidance Counselor until her retirement in 1998. She had a leadership role with seniors, assisting them through the various fazes and mazes they encountered when trying to complete the high school phase of their lives.

Mrs. Barrett accentuated the positive and minimized the rest. The school kids loved her, her peers respected her and the Administration held her in high

Mrs. Barrett accentuated the positive and minimized the rest. The school kids loved her, her peers respected her and the Administration held her in high

Mrs. Barrett gave of herself, 100 percent. She will be missed at least that much by all by all.

We congratulate her on her success' and know we will hear of her many more accomplishments.
The best is yet to come for Judith Barrett. Well deserved it will be.

Congratulations to the class of 1998. During our four year relationship, I have witnessed talent, intelligence and potential in you which should produce some of the finest adults this country has ever known. Upon graduation you are to choose which paths you will follow. Traditionally, graduation from high school denotes one of the societal rites of passage from childhood to adulthood. The responsibilities of being an adult can be overwhelming if you're not prepared. I believe all of you are capable of this transition.

Arts High School is unique in both environment and experience, and later in life you will realize this. You are the products of a high school with a rich and significant history. Our alumni include those who have made major contributions to fashion, art, music and theater. You are now among them. I expect your contributions to the fiber of our society to equal that of your predecessors, you posses "gifts" beyond your realization; recognize them, nurture them and respect them.

I wish for you only the best and want you to realize, "I believe you can

Love and Success. Eleta J. Caldwell Principal

For the past four years you have had the opportunity to develop in an environment that has nurtured and celebrated your individuality. Your talents, interests and skills have been identified broadened and encouraged. Arts High has served as your home both on an academic as well as a social level. All of the members of the Arts High Family have had the pleasure of witnessing your development into young adulthood. Now you must take your experiences in high school and travel to the next phase of your life.

You must always remember that you are "one of a kind"; a unique individual who has a responsibility to contribute to society. Every question you have has an answer and every dilemma a solution. You have the knowledge to obtain every goal you have for yourself and you serve as a role model to those who come after you and thus you must reach back to pull others forward.

May you each have many happy experiences in life's journey. My love and good wishes are with you always! Congratulations to the class of 1998.

Mrs. Nettie Thomas Art Chairperson

"For every thousand people there are nine hundred doing the work, nine- The Performing Arts at Arts High School has given you a very comprety doing well, nine doing good, and one lucky soul who's the artist." The Visual Arts department strives to produce the "artist". We offer the art majors experiences in drawing, painting, sculpture, fashions, graphics, and photography. The works they create become an enduring legacy for themselves and for Arts High School. Our art students embody the same individualistic creative spark as the other major which is exemplified in the quote that states, "Every man's work, whether it be literature, music, paintings, or architecture or anything else is always a portrait of himself." We expect those portraits to perpetuate our proud legacy.

Mr. Nicholas Santoro Music Department Chairperson

hensive experience in both practical and theoretical aspects of Music, Dance, Drama and Television Communications. Each of you possess the talent to continue in your field of interest and the faculty hope you will become actively involved in your community to bring the joy of the arts to everyone.

Mr. Walter Kaczca Science Department Chairperson

The goal of the Science Department is to prepare our students for a successful college experience and their future careers. We focus on the major lab science of Biology, Chemistry and Physics. We strive to show the interconnectedness of the Sciences and the Arts and the increasing use of Technology.

Congratulations to the Class of 1998!

Mrs. Joyce Pace-Jones Math Department Chairperson Congratulations to the class of 1998!

I wish you happiness and success in all of your endeavors. Just as I'm getting to know each of you, it's time for you to move on to bigger and better things. You will leave to take your destiny in other pursuits.

I sincerely hope that you achieve all of your goals and dreams. Don't allow roadblocks to get in your way. Always remember that success is not a destination. It is a journey!

Mrs. Mary Austin Guidance Department

Congratulations to the class of 1998!

The Guidance program at Arts High School is an integral part of the overall educational program.

Our focus is on the student. We believe in the dignity and worth of each and every individual. We are committed to the continuous development and maintenance of an accepting, helping relationship with the students. We furnish a broad spectrum of student centered activities and services in the process of helping the student to become self-respecting, contributing 21 citizens of society.

On November 7th, the senior class held its annual skating party. The party had everyone jumpin' and rollin'. Many of the seniors had a chance to strut their stuff, but some did it better than others. Not only did the girls dance with the guys, but some were dancing with the floor. James and Ah-med were among the guys that busted their ##! It was a night to remember for those who attended.

The Ayes Have It

or the first time in Arts High's history, Student Council elections were done in an official manner.
On October 24, 1997, all students were afforded the opportunity to vote. They used Essex County voting machines during their lunch period. Not only was this a chance for students to vote for their choice, but for the first time students actually saw the inside of a voting machine.

School To Work

hat Now? This is the question burning in the minds of high school seniors. Before this time, everything in our lives was planned and mapped out for us. The only future we cared about was the dance next week or party coming soon, anything to celebrate. This was different. We were being asked if we will enter the labor market or continue our education. November 17, 1998 was Career Day. Professionals from all walks of life came to speak to us, sharing their experiences.

Actors and musicians, having paved the way before us, shared stories of their professions. We saw"behind the scenes" careers. Set Designers, Fashion Designers, Stage Designers too. Interior Designers added to the mix and we learned that many art forms combine for one art event.

Our visitors were not limited to the arts. We had law enforcement and lawyers spoke of how their days were spent.

Each visitor and career choice had it's own appeal. College recruiters were on hand to hep us find the path to the choices before us. Thanks went to the Guidance Department for sponsoring Career Day.

Times Square Angel

imes Square Angel" by Charles Busch was presented at Arts High School on Friday December 19, 1997 to a almost sold out house. Ms. Long from The Drama Departmentcoordinated and directed the all school production.

The production featured a cast of Drama, Music, Art, Dance and TV Production Majors.

All departments contributed to the success of this show. Mr. Kruger and the "Baby Legends" provided the music, Ms. Richardson and the dance majors staged dance numbers, Mr. Carden art classes created and painted the New York City backdrop. Mr. Kyrejko's art students created posters, T-shirts and "The Welcome Home Frankie" sign. Ms. Brazell's and Ms. Long"s drama classes served as stage, props and costume crews. The very successful advertising company was developed by Mr. Gardner and the T. V. communication majors who also created many of the props and scenery pieces. They also served as ushers as well as provide a wonderful cafe where refreshments could be purchased.

The cast, crew and faculty worked very hard to make this show a success.

Our goal was to provide an opportunity for everyone with an interest to participate in the creation and performance of a play either as an actor, singer, dance, musician or as a behind-the scenes, crew member. We had a great time and learn alot from each other.

Oh What A Night

t was a dark night in winter. February, in fact. It was Friday the thirteenth. The excitement in the air was thick. It had been building for several weeks. All of our emotions, numerous phone calls, speculations, and rumors seemed to focus on this night. Nervous anticipation took on a whole new meaning. Finally, the time had come.

Everyone, and I mean everyone, was there, meeting as planned at Arts High School in Newark. The students gathered together, surprised expressions on their faces. They checked out one another, Freshman and Seniors alike. Everyone was definitely "dressed to impress."

Even teachers were there, looking more fresh than ever!

It was Friday, February 13, 1998 and it was the night Arts High School celebrated it's Winter Ball. (We got our swerve on with Mase, The Lox, Puffy, Jay-Z and Aallya. The tunes of Biggie and L'il Kim, Usher and Busta Rhymes, got us into the groove.) It was a night to remember. Oh what a night!

s drama majors, you learn a variety of things. As freshmen, you are taught the basics of acting. As sophomores you experience the difficulties of performing a full length play. Everything you learn should be shown when you reach the junior year. Throughout all of the years, you strive to improve vocalization, pronunciation, and projection. rts High track team has had the best year in Arts High history. The year started out with a strong cross-country campaign. Asusual, Edwin Lora led the way for the boys team by breaking the school record he set three times. Edwin made the All-County, All Conference and the All-State team. On the girls side, Arleny Rodriguez made her cross-country debut, one not to be forgotten. This sophomore copied Edwin's success(minus the school record) by earning All-State, All-Conference and All-County honors.

Look out for our up and coming star Dennis Garcia, who broke Edwin's sophomore record this year. As well as Sheniga Allen a frosh who came along way to become our fifth girl on the squad.

Indoor season proved to be a record breaking year for the boys and the girls team. The boys team, which was one the smallest team ever at Arts, proved to have a successful season. The boys team was led by seniors Omar Wheeler and Alex Lora. Arts'boys team proved to be one of the top teams in the country. Omar who won the Essex County Championships in the 55 meter dash also broke the school record in the 500 meter dash. Omar then ran a fantastic 50.09 in the 400 meter dash, that not only broke the school record but place him tenth in the nation. Alex broke two school records of his own in the 800meters and in the 600 meters. Other members included: Edwin Lora, Dennis Garcia, James Wilson, Janald Walden and Kevin Shelton. On the girls side, no one had a season like Sameerah Mitchell. Sameerah broke two school records early in the year in the 500 meter dash and the 300 meter dash. Then she added the 200 meters to her resume.

CROSS COUNTRY

Does A Body Good

or many, the end of the summer months is time to capture the last few rays and make the last road trip down to the beach. For some tough, the end of August means the beginning of training for a long, hard season ahead. For the cross country team a typical morning begins by getting up at seven and going to school for practice. The process also includes weight training. These tenacious athletes run through the streets around the school in preparation for the vigorous season ahead.

o say the students at Arts High School as they remembered their fellow classmates of '98. Each class has it's own personality. Each class has it's very unique make up. Each student contributes to the overall impression that leaves it's mark in the halls of Arts High. Each and every person is remembered for their own style but some are remembered for being the most ... The class of '98 voted for their classmates for being most talkative, most comical, most popular and the most athletic. They also remembered certain classmates for having the prettiest eyes, being the biggest flirt, and best sets of friends. They even voted for who was considered the best dressed. And to demonstrate how everyone contributes to class personality, the students also voted for classmates who tried to squeak through without being noticed. The senior class voted for those in the category of least talkative. With good reason the students of Arts High remember their classmates of "98. They're all that!

"Men in Black," starring Will Smith and Tommy Lee Jones, was the blockbuster movie of the summer. The sciencefiction comedy about federal agents battling extraterrestrials won the Oscar for best make-up.

The WNBA made a name for itself in its inaugural season with the backing of the NBA and a catchy slogan, "We Got Next!" The league consisted of eight teams in the NBA's largest markets, such as New York, Los Angeles and Houston. In the first WNBA Championship Game in August, the Houston Comets beat the New York Liberty, 65-51.

A multi-billion-dollar settlement between the tobacco industry and the attorneys general of 40 states was reached in June. In exchange for immunity from future legal action, the industry agreed to pay $360 billion over the next 25 years to smokers and states to compensate for health costs related to smoking. Also included in the settlement was a ban on most cigarette advertising, especially advertising directed at children. As a result, Reynolds Tobacco Co. was forced to retire Joe Camel, the flashy cartoon character blamed for luring kids to smoke.

Union workers for United Parcel Service went on strike for 16 days in August, crippling the world's largest package delivery company and wreaking havoc on virtually everyone in the business world and their customers. The strike, which involved 185,000 members of the Teamsters' union, was the largest in the United States in more than a decade. It was caused by UPS's increasing reliance on part-time workers and was ultimately resolved by the creation of 10,000 new full-time jobs.

Mir. the 12-year-old Russian space station, experienced several mishaps during the year, the worst of which was in June when an unmanned cargo ship crashed into Mir, leaving a gash in the pressurized vessel that was responsible for a substantial power loss. In January, American astronaut David Wolf floated outside the Mir on a mission to examine the outer hull. The aging complex is a test-bed for the international space station Alpha, components of which will be launched in 1998.

Mike Tyson displayed a raw savagery that sickened even the most die-hard boxing fans when he bit off pieces of not one, but both, of Evander Holyfield's ears during their heavyweight title bout in June. By the third round, Tyson had become frustrated and at some point discarded his mouth piece. Soon after, he took a bite out of Holyfield's right ear and then, after a penalty, bit his left ear, causing the referee to disqualify him. In July, Tyson's boxing license was permanently revoked and he was fined $3 million. ◆ Italian fashion designer Gianni Versace, 50, was gunned down in July outside his South Beach mansion in Miami by serial killer Andrew

The Mars Pathfinder, carrying the rover Sojourner, made a historic journey to our planetary neighbor in July, collecting fascinating and useful information. In October, scientists announced that Mars, like the Earth, has a crust, a mantle and an iron core, making it likely that the planet once had water on it. Initially, Pathfinder's mission was planned to last 30 days, and Sojourner was only expected to run for a week. But the batteries held out, and the mission continued for three months, sending back 2.6 billion bits of information and 16,000 images.

The Chicago Bulls held off the Utah Jazz in the NBA Finals in June to win their fifth championship in seven seasons. For the first time, however, the Bulls, led by the perennial trio of Michael Jordan, Scottie Pippen and Dennis Rodman, had to battle their way to the top. Hard-fought playoff games with Washington, Atlanta and Miami set the stage for a no-holdsbarred tilt with the Jazz.

The British colony of Hong Kong officially ceased to exist on July 1, when, after 156 years of colonial rule, the economically sound territory was returned to Beijing's control. The handover took place without incident, but it caused concerns about whether China would suppress the human rights of Hong Kong's 6.4 million people. Many residents have since noted with relief that, for the most part, their daily lives had not changed and the economy remains strong.

Timothy McVeigh was found guilty in June and later sentenced to death by lethal injection for the deaths of 168 people in the April 1995 bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City. People all over the world shared in the triumph of the victims' families and friends following the verdict. Prosecutors in the case were glorified for bringing closure to what many considered the worst act of terrorism in American history.

Death of a Princess

The world lost one of its pre-eminent humanitarians when Princess Diana died Aug. 31. Her goodwill efforts extended far beyond her royal obligations and included charitable work for children and those with AIDS and breast cancer paparazzi for causing the tragic accident that killed Princess Diana. The car she was riding in crashed following a high-speed chase with photographers on motorcycles. Some of the blame was later placed on Diana's chauffeur, Henri Paul, when an autopsy revealed he was more than three times over the French blood-alcohol limit for driving.

Many blamed the Millions watched Sept. 6 as the royal family bade farewell to their princess. The coffin containing Diana's body was transported to a memorial service at historic Westminster Abbey by horsedrawn carriage. Celebrities and dignitaries attended the service, which was televised internationally.

WHO SAID: 2 256 STUDENTS FROM ACROSS THE NATION

Princess Diana's untimely death shocked the world, resulting in an unprecedented outpouring of grief from around the world. Thousands of people lined the streets of London to pay their last respects. Flowers and personal mementos piled up at the gates of London's Buckingham and Kensington palaces and the royal family received condolence cards by the millions.

Cunanan. The subject of a national FBI manhunt, Cunanan shot himself to death less than a week later in a houseboat just a short distance from Versace's villa. ◆ The wacky antics of a "Seinfeld" episode had an American brewery executive laughing all the way to the bank. Jerold McKenzie was fired by his company after he discussed the episode with a female co-worker. In the episode, Jerry forgets his new girlfriend's name and can only remember it rhymes with a female body part. The co-worker complained to her bosses and McKenzie lost his $130,000-a-year job. He filed a wrongful dismissal claim against the brewery and in July won $36

The capital murder trial of Theodore Kaczynski, the reputed Unabomber, began in November, was delayed in December and abruptly ended in January when Kaczynski agreed to a plea bargain, admitting that he was responsible for 16 explosions that killed three people and injured 23 others. During the three months of the trial, Kaczynski, 55, a Harvard graduate and former university math professor, kept his defense lawyers, prosecutors and the judge in the case busy by first attempting suicide and then demanding that he be allowed to defend himself. Ultimately, Kaczynski avoided possible execution by assuming responsibility as one of the most mysterious serial killers in U.S. history

The First Family got bigger in December when President Clinton welcomed Buddy the First Dog into the White House. The chocolate-brown Labrador pup became the first canine resident at the mansion since the Bush's dog, Millie, lived there. Although it took some time, it was said that Buddy and Socks, the Clinton's cat, were getting along wonderfully.

Was Justice served when Louise Woodward was released?

British au pair Louise Woodward picket outside the superior courthouse in Cambridge, Mass. Although Woodward was convicted of second-degree murder in the death of infant Matthew Eappen, Judge Hiller Zobel overturned the verdict, calling it a "miscarriage of justice." Instead of the mandatory sentence of 15 years to life, Woodward was sentenced to time served and released.

Tensions flared and the threat of war escalated in Iraq when Saddam Hussein continued to refuse U.N. inspectors access to suspected chemical and biological weapons sites. The United States and the world remained diligent trying to foster a commitment from Hussein to end his country's programs for weapons of mass destruction. The military build-up in Iraq began in the fall and continued into the new year when a U.N.-Iraq accord was signed, giving inspectors full access to sites previously declared off-limits. The accord, worked out by U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan, averted potential U.S. air strikes.

The upstart Florida Marlins captured their first-ever World Series championship in October by defeating the Cleveland Indians in seven games. Shortly afterwards, the team was dismantled as Owner Wayne Huizenga traded several marquee players in an attempt to make the organization more profitable.

Coaching great Dean Smith retired in the fall as head basketball coach at the University of North Carolina after 36 years at the school. Smith, 66, had a career mark of 879-254, charting the most career wins by a basketball coach in NCAA history. Along the way, Smith coached NBA superstars Michael Jordan and James Worthy, winning national championships in 1982 and 1993. His teams made 27 NCAA Tournament appearances, reaching the Sweet 16 an impressive 21 times.

First Daughter Chelsea Clinton, 17, left the White House for Stanford University in September. While President Clinton and First Lady Hillary adapted to their empty nest, Chelsea attempted to become just another face in the crowd. Her transition into college life was less than conventional with the Secret Service shadowing her every move.

Boasting a new population of 3,407, the city of Carlisle, Iowa, rallied behind residents Kenny and Bobbi McCaughey after Bobbi gave birth to four boys and three girls, the world's only known set of living septuplets. The miracle birth was the result of fertility drugs, which Bobbi was taking before and after conceiving her first child, Mikayla. The daunting task of caring for the newborns - Kenneth, Alexis, Natalie, Kelsey, Brandon, Nathaniel, and Joel - was made easier when, within hours of their birth, the septuplets were showered with gifts, including cash and college scholarships, as well as car seats, strollers and lifetime supplies of Pampers and Gerber baby food. Local businesses also pitched in to build the family of 10 a new house.

Three students were killed and five others were injured in December at Heath High School in West Paducah, Ky., when fellow student Michael Carneal opened fire with a handgun in the school lobby. Lockers of the victims were decorated in the days following the shooting, which occurred as several students finished an informal prayer meeting in the crowded lobby. Carneal, 14, told investigators he was inspired by a scene in the 1995 movie "The Basketball Diaries," in which the main character, played by Leonardo DiCaprio, dreams about methodically gunning down five classmates while other students cheer. The Heath High School incident was one of four fatal school shootings during the year.

Elton John experienced a whirlwind year of tragedy and triumph. He dealt with the tragic loss of two friends when Gianni Versace and Princess Diana ere killed. In tribute to the fallen priness, John rewrote his popular ballad, 'Candle in the Wind." In March, he was nighted for his service to British pop nusic and his work for AIDS charities

Detroit Lions linebacker Reggie Brown was knocked unconscious in December during a game against the New York Jets and had to be removed from the field by emergency personnel. He later underwent a four-hour surgery to fuse two vertebrae. Less than a month later, Brown made a stunning appearance at a hospital press conference, getting up out of his wheelchair and walking to the podium to give a statement. Although doctors were pleased with his progress, they noted that Brown would never fully recover and that his football career is most likely over. Following Brown's tragic injury, the Lions dedicated their first-round playoff game against Tampa Bay to him.

Tom Osborne, the Nebraska Cornhuskers' legendary coach, announced his retirement in December after 25 years on the job. Osborne, 61, cited health concerns and a desire to be with his family as reasons for retiring. He had a career record of 255-49-3 and reached his 250th victory in 302 games, 18 fewer than Penn State's Joe Paterno needed. Two back-to-back national championships in 1994 and 1995 and a share of the title in 1998 make Osborne one of college football's most prolific coaches ever. In his last game, the native Nebraskan went out in style as the Cornhuskers walloped Tennessee, 42-17, in the Orange Bowl.

Latrell Sprewell of the Golden State Warriors assaulted coach P.J. Carlesimo twice during a practice Dec. 1 and was subsequently suspended from the NBA for one year, the longest non-drug ban in league history. The decision sparked a heated debate over whether the punishment was fair. In March, an arbitrator ordered that Sprewell be reinstated and his suspension be reduced.

TV's Whirlwind Year

Jerry Seinfeld announced in December that his top-rated NBC sitcom, Seinfeld, was in its final season, indicating he wanted the show to go out while it was still in top form. In nine seasons, Seinfeld evolved into a cultural signpost and one of television's most popular shows. Seinfeld's finale on May 14 was estimated to be among the most widely viewed events in television history. Commercial airtime for the final episode commanded higher prices than the Super Bowl with a 30-second spot costing $1 million.

E.R., television's top-rated medical drama, created quite a stir with its live season-opening episode. Actors had one take to get it right and, when they finished, they did it again to accommodate all time zones. E.R.'s live episode set the stage for a season of unusual television developments with Chicago Hope's musical episode, Seinfeld's backwards episode and Mad About You's no-commercial episode.

The debut of Comedy Central's crudely animated hit, South Park, was wildly successful as it became the network's highest-rated show ever. The exploits of potty-mouths Kenny, Kyle, Cartman and Stan were considered by some to be even more offensive than those of MTV's Beavis & Butt-head. Network censors were comfortable with most of the show's stunts, which included Kenny being killed in every episode, but balked at an episode where Stan was set on fire by another character.

MTV's Beavis & Butt-head ended its successful five-year run with a final episode in January as series creator Mike Judge hoped to spend more time on his FOX hit King of the Hill. Fans can still catch the show on MTV, where re-runs will air indefinitely.

Hollywood's Golden Globe Awards ceremony was marked by a poignant moment when Ving Rhames gave his trophy for best actor in a TV miniseries to fellow nominee Jack Lemmon. Rhames was named best actor for his portrayal of boxing mogul Don King, while Lemmon was nominated for his role in a remake of "12 Angry Men." The unselfish gesture did not go unnoticed by the Hollywood Foreign Press Association, which sponsors the awards, as Rhames was presented with another Golden Globe trophy a week later.

The Michigan Wolverines' thrilling 21-16 victory in the Rose Bowl capped off an impressive season that ended in a share of the national championship with Nebraska. Charles Woodson, Michigan's all-purpose player and winner of the Heisman Trophy, was a key factor in the Wolverines' undefeated season.

The 25th Anniversary of the Sureme Court's historic Roe versus Wade decision was celebrated in January. Thousands on both sides of the volatile issue traveled to Washington, D.C. to observe the event. The 1973 ruling by the nation's righest court barred states from banning bortion, finding that a woman's right to privacy under the U.S. constitution included the right to end a pregnancy.

The teller turned over $1,500 and Devlin walked casually out of the bank. He surrendered to authorities 30 minutes later. The bright flashing lights of a popular Japanese televi-

Sen. John Glenn, the first American astronaut to orbit the Earth, got his wish to go back into space when NASA announced in January that he will be aboard the shuttle Discovery in October. At 77, Glenn will be the oldest person to fly in space. His presence on Discovery will aid researchers in their understanding of how the weightlessness of space affects the body as it ages. The Ohio Democrat lobbied for months to return to space, and has passed the rigorous physical tests required by NASA.

Pop music sensation Hanson led the year's "kid-rock" phenomenon, joining Silverchair, LeeAnn Rimes and Johnny Lang in pre-pubescent popularity. Brothers Issac, Taylor and Zac, drove fellow teeny-boppers wild with their snappy-happy songs of life and love. Their breakthrough album, "Middle of Nowhere," earned Grammy nominations for record of the year and best new album.

Bob Dylan scored big at the Grammys in February. The rock music legend's bum, "Time Out of Mind," won album of the year. He also won best male rock performance for the song "Cold Irons Bound." The icing on the cake came for Dylan hen his son, Jakob, and his band, the Wallflowers, won two Grammys for best rock ng and best rock performance by a duo or group for "One Headlight.

Winston Cup driver Dale Earnhardt captured his firstever Daytona 500 win in February, breaking a streak of 19straight losses in stock car racing's showcase event. The win also ended a 59-race Winston Cup losing streak. Earnhardt had lost Daytona twice before on the last lap, but this time held off a host of challengers. A crash on the 199th lap allowed him to take the checkered flag alone and virtually unchallenged.

Karla Faye Tucker, a convicted ax murderer and born-again Christian, became the first woman to be executed in the United States since 1984 when the state of Texas put her to death in February. She was only the second woman executed since 1976, when the Supreme Court allowed capital punishment to resume. Tucker, 38, was sentenced to die for the 1983 pickax murder of two people in Houston. Her case touched off an international debate over redemption and the morality of the death penalty. For some it was a gender issue, but not for Tucker. She argued for clemency based on her newfound faith, claiming she had been rehabilitated and wanted a life sentence so she could help others behind bars.

After a long delay, the much anticipated visit of Pope John Paul II to Cuba came to pass in January. Welcomed by Fidel Castro, the ailing pontiff spent five days in Cuba on a visit that many believed would set a new course for the Cuban church. Tens of thousands of people gathered to see the pope as he made stops and celebrated mass in several Cuban cities, including Havana and Camaguev.

Acting on his word, 150 sect members left their lives in Taiwan and moved to Garland, Texas, to witness the arrival of God.

El Niño was responsible for record rainfall amounts in California as storm after storm drenched the Pacific coast, causing widespread flooding and landslide damages. Swollen rivers caused several roads to collapse, leading to costly destruction and several deaths. In 1982, the last time El Niño surfaced, an estimated $13 billion in damages was recorded worldwide. Experts believe damages this time around would be far worse.

El Niño-driven tornadoes walloped parts of central Florida in late February, killing more than 30 people and destroying hundreds of homes and businesses. As many as 12 tornadoes were recorded, one of which measured 200 yards wide with winds of 150 to 250 miles per hour. At the height of the storms, it was estimated that nearly 140,000 people lost power.

Rollerblading in February is not usually popular in Buffalo, N.Y. But with the effects of El Niño, Buffalo experienced unseasonably warm temperatures during most of the winter months. El Niño, the mysterious weather phenomenon that occurs every two to seven years, was predicted to be the "climate event of the century." Although residents of Buffalo might disagree, El Niño's return in 1997 was largely unwelcome.

In mid-March, a winter storm on the heels of an El Niñorelated warm front dropped as much as 20 inches of snow and ice on areas of the Northeast and was responsible for more than 10 deaths.
